

THERESA CARDINAL BROWN

Theresa's career spans three decades in bipartisan federal immigration law and policy including law firms, government service, policy advocacy, and consulting. She has worked at the American Immigration Lawyers Association, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, and U.S. Customs and Border Protection, as well as senior advisory positions within the Department of Homeland Security under both the Bush and Obama administrations.

Theresa currently holds appointments as an Immigration Fellow at the George W. Bush Institute and the National Immigration Forum, is a Leader of the Council on National Security and Immigration and a non-resident immigration fellow at Cornell Law School. From 2014 to 2025 was a Director and Senior Advisor for immigration at the Bipartisan Policy Center think-tank in Washington, DC. She also extends her expertise to clients through her consultancy, Cardinal North Strategies, LLC.

Theresa is a regular media voice on immigration having appeared on Fox News, CBS' 60 Minutes, CNN, PBS News Hour and other news outlets and is frequently quoted in the Washington Post, New York Times, Wall St. Journal, Politico, Washington Examiner and other media. Finally, she was the executive producer and principal voice for 200 episodes of the This Week in Immigration podcast for the Bipartisan Policy Center.