Graduate Faculty – Support Graduate Student Hilltop Review Submissions

On behalf of the WMU Graduate Student Association, the Faculty Senate encourages graduate faculty to support graduate student submissions to the 2020-21 issue of The Hilltop Review. The submission due date has been extended to March 15, 2021. The Hilltop Review is a peer-reviewed publication of the GSA. Additionally, due to the impact of COVID-19 on scholarly activity, any qualifying submissions made during the Spring 2019 semester will be reviewed for consideration in the 2020-21 issue.

Acceptable submissions include:

- research articles from any discipline
- book reviews
- letters to the editor
- artwork
- short stories
- poems

In recognition of excellent work by graduate students, The Hilltop Review offers cash prizes in the areas of research, artwork, and creative writing. To learn more about these awards and the journal's policies, including how to submit, please visit the website.

The GSA is also looking for graduate student volunteers to serve as reviewers. This is an excellent opportunity for graduate students to gain experience with the academic journal process. Graduate students may apply for the position of reviewer at Reviewer Application Form by March 15, 2021.
